Course Description

This is the first semester of a two-semester course in which anatomy and physiology are integrally presented. Students learn anatomic and physiologic terminology, the principles of the relationships between form and function and basic mathematical calculations converting between the metric and English systems of measurement. Students also learn specific information about concepts of basic chemistry, cell structure and physiology, cell reproduction and tissue structure. The anatomy and physiology of four of the body's 11 systems are also presented. In laboratory investigations students acquire knowledge about bones, muscular function and microscopic examination of tissues. Lab fee is required.

Prerequisites/Corequisites

Pass reading on THEA or COMPASS and be eligible for College Algebra by passing math on THEA or COMPASS or by passing the developmental math sequence. Corequisite: HPRS 1106 (or consent of department chair).

Scans

SCANS 1, 3, 6, 9

Course Objectives

1. Learner will be able to recognize and use the language and mathematical conversions required for exploration in the scientific and medical fields.

2.Learner will be able to identify the molecules that are the building blocks of the human body.

3.Learner will learn the basic chemistry needed to conceptualize the inner workings of the body organ systems.

4.Learner will be able to identify the activities of various cellular structures responsible for maintaining life.

5.Learner will be able to identify the structures and functions of the first four organ systems, as well as how each system interacts with the others.

Make-ups: A comprehensive make-up exam maybe given to replace a missed exam. If a family crisis, severe illness, or other emergency causes you to miss an exam, it is your responsibility to make arrangements for a make-up exam to be taken before the next class meeting following the missed exam, OR you may take the comprehensive make-up at the end of the semester. These are the only two choices. If it is known prior to a lab practical that it will be missed, arrangements should be made to take the practical during another lab. Prior permission of all involved instructors must be obtained. Lab practical's must be taken during one of the regularly scheduled lab periods. NO EXCEPTIONS.

Plagiarism: Any work submitted for a grade that is not the individual learner's original work will be subject to a grade of zero and/or dismissal from the course with a grade of F, as determined by the instructor.

Tutor Lab Requirement: Learners are required to spend at least one hour per week in the tutor lab which is called the Synapse. Attendance and assignments will determine the tutor lab points. Learner I.D. is required for participation in the Synapse.

Grievances: Odessa College policy requires that learner grievances first be discussed with the instructor. Unresolved issues may then be discussed with the instructor's immediate supervisor.

Cell phones and/or pagers must be turned off or on silent during all lecture and laboratory periods.

There is a one hour per week Synapse Lab (tutor lab) requirement for Anatomy and Physiology 1. Should any student fail to pass a lecture exam with a score of 70% or above, an additional 1 hour per week synapse lab requirement will be instituted to help the student grasp key principles in this course. There will be many chapter quizzes each student will complete in synapse to receive their 5% course grade for the tutor lab.
